

† AKINTUNDE JOHN AREMU 1959 - 2021 †

BIOGRAPHY OF AND TRIBUTE TO BROTHER AKINTUNDE JOHN AREMU

Brother Akintunde John Aremu was born on 8th March 1959 in Sekondi, Ghana to the family of Late Mr. Daniel Ajao and Late Mrs. Esther Gbemisola Aremu, who were into trading then. He commenced his Nursery and Primary School education at Chapel Hill Preparatory School in Takoradi, Ghana and moved to Nigeria with his parents and siblings in December 1969, following the expulsion of Nigerians and aliens from Ghana during the government of Dr. Kofi Busia. He completed his Primary School education at Alafia Institute, Ibadan, Nigeria. Thereafter, he gained admission into Ogbomosho Grammar School, Ogbomosho for his Secondary School education. He did his Advanced Level studies at Federal Government College, Ilorin from 1977 to 1979, where he was nicknamed Aremu Tan Theta by his classmates because of his good mastery of Mathematics. In 1979, Akintunde was admitted into the University of Lagos and graduated in 1984 with a Bachelor of Science degree in Mechanical Engineering.

After the completion of the mandatory National Youth Service, he worked briefly as a Lecturer at the Nigeria Institute of Oceanography and Marine Research (NIOMR), Victoria Island, Lagos before joining Dunlop Nigeria Plc as Factory Engineer. While he was at Dunlop, he studied for and obtained an Executive MBA degree from the Obafemi Awolowo University, Ile-Ife, graduating in 2008. He also took Management courses from the Lagos Business School, Lagos. He won several awards during his career at Dunlop Nigeria and was adjudged a very trustworthy and competent manager. Indeed, he earned rapid promotions until he was promoted to the senior management position as the Purchasing Manager. It was on this position that he retired from Dunlop in 2008.

After he left Dunlop Nigeria Plc, Mr. Akintunde Aremu went into private business, establishing the A.J. Aremu Victory Farms and Foods Company, where he was the Managing Director until the time of his passing away. Throughout his career in paid employment and private business and even as a student in school, he was known to be hard working, focused a man of vision and a role model.

Brother Akintunde Aremu accepted Jesus Christ as his Lord and Saviour during his secondary school days through the witnessing of Dr. Gabriel Akilo, then a Medical Officer at the Baptist Hospital, Ogbomosho, and since then he has been a committed Christian. The friendship has continued ever since and Dr. Akilo has been one of his mentors and benefactors over the years. After his conversion, he also witnessed Christ to his family members and was concerned that all would experience the salvation of Christ. He was an active member of Lagos

Varsity Christian Union (LVCU) during his undergraduate years in the University of Lagos. Moreover, he was a member of the Foursquare Gospel Church, Nigeria when he was a student at UNILAG and worshipped at the Foursquare Gospel Church, Yaba. After marriage and moving to Agege, he joined Foursquare Gospel Church, Ifako where he was an active member and held various posts until his time of passing on to glory.

Brother Akintunde Aremu married Mrs. Victoria Iyabo Aremu (née Ojo), a Lecturer at the Adeniran Ogunsanya College of Education, Oto Ijanikin, on 3rd November 1990 and the marriage is blessed with children. He was a doting, loving and caring husband and father to his wife and children and no sacrifice was too much for him to make to ensure the well-being of his family. His disciplinarian character ensured that his children are well behaved and of good report. He showered love and care on his immediate family, as well as to the extended family. He was known for his readiness to be of help and assistance in any way possible. Mr. John Aremu is survived by wife, children, brothers and sisters and will be greatly missed by them.

Brother Akintunde John Aremu was a mentor, friendly, a good adviser, a great counsellor and a good role model to many. He was a very trustworthy and competent manager of people and resources. His demise has left a great vacuum in the family and the church of God. His death has also taught us that this world is not our home; we are to live for some time and go back home at appropriate time as determined by God. Whoever we are and whatever we have are for temporary time. We will leave them behind as brother Akintunde has done. It pays to serve God and live for Him every day because He is supreme and eternal. Let us live with consciousness of eternity in view. Heaven Is real. We must be there.

Brother Akintunde John Aremu, we miss and love you. We take solace and comfort in the scriptures in 1 Thessalonians 4:13 (KJV) which says "But I would not have you to be ignorant, brethren, concerning them which are asleep, that ye sorrow not, as others which have no hope", and in Revelation 14:13 (KJV) "And I heard a voice from heaven saying unto me, Write, Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord from henceforth: Yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labours; and their works do follow them ". Rest in the Lord's bosom until we meet to part no more.

Rev. Dr. Lawrence Awolade.

Hmmm, may the King of glory take all the glory for his calm, gentle but victorious life. I pray the infallible Comforter pour His oil of comfort in the hearts of the family members in Jesus name.

Oluwabunmi Isiaka

Precious in the sight of the Lord is the death of His saints. As much as this is a surprise to us, I'm sure it is not a surprise to God. We trust the Lord who is a giver of strength, to give the much needed strength at this needed time to his much needy family and friends. We will still stand on the word of God that says, 'All things will work together for good for those that love God'. And if this is the enemy's job, we will get him back. And he needs to know that he did not score any point, he just woke up a sleeping giant in the midst of us. God will give us more grace to stand in the gap more for each other. And the God of all comfort will shower us with His comfort, insights and wisdom at this time. Praying from a heavy heart.

Earth's loss, they say, is heaven's gain. That's probably why Paul said, "For to me, to live is Christ and to die is gain." (Philippians 1:21)

We pray that the God of all comfort would comfort his family & friends.

It is still well with our souls!

Bro Tunde was always so gentle, warm and cheerful. I never even knew if he ever raised his voice in anger.

His wife had to, about twice or so, at our camp, introduce herself as Bro Tunde Aremu's wife, before I could remember her, after our first meeting, several years earlier.

Oh God, may your peace and comfort be that of his family, the church and us all.

Spoken to his brother Kola Aremu

I've just gotten off the call to brother Tunde's brother.

I shared our collective and heartfelt condolences, introduced our Alumni Fellowship, shared background information from Unilag interaction and other information.

He has taken down my number and promised to contact me when burial arrangements are concluded.

He will also pass the same condolences to Mrs Victoria Aremu, our brother's widow who I've been unable to reach as she has not been taking calls.

I also learnt of Brother Tunde's children; a son on youth service, another son in final year and a daughter in SS2.

May God comfort all his loved ones and may all of us on this platform take encouragement from the Word of God.

Psalm 116:15 NIV Precious in the sight of the LORD is the death of his faithful servants.

Gbenga Apampa

Wow, may the Holy Spirit comfort all the entire family and brethren as he rests in glory.

Yinka Adedire

Tributes

TRIBUTE TO MY HUSBAND

Where will I start from; Akintunde John Ishola Okin omo Baba Eto. A man who was so full of life. You will always be in my heart. Tunde was the love of my life, the one who did everything humanly possible to protect me ever in the face of all shorts of misconceptions. He is the one who understood the real meaning of our marriage. A caring husband. A Christian and hard-working person. A disciplinarian, an open minded person. He was never afraid to tell you where you wrong him or what he feels about your behaviour/attitude towards him. A rally point of the family. An encourager, always preaching Christ especially using Joseph's life as a model for youth and the experience of Moses and the burning bush. A man committed and dedicated to the things of God. I will miss you, but I take solace in God's word that:

He will perfect all that concerns me.

your Wife Iyabo Aremu

Your death was an abrupt and a rude shock to me. Sometimes when you corrected me, I thought you were callous but as time went on I realised that you were beneficent. Having a father like you is an opportunity I want to thank God for. You are hardly seen in a miserable mood and you were so explicit, diligent, liberal and frugal. I thank you for all the queer but profound lessons you taught me. You taught me the five principles of success which will guide me all my life.

Hmm, I know you went to rest, but you will still be in my heart at all times.

Aremu Oluwafolabomi (your daughter.)

Words become scarce at a time like this. Where do you begin from Is the question you ask yourself; the harsh times when dad made you do things so your future will be as great as he pictured it or the good times when you shared a laughter or two or times when you were persuaded that you were born into the wrong family amongst others Words and time will fail me at this time to describe the beauty of a man dad was; imperfect but beautiful. A fighter, a man never afraid to speak up irrespective of who it was he had to stand up to. A man guided by five major principles as divinely given to him when studying the life of joseph. if he didn't have anything else to say(which was practically impossible even to the stranger next door), he had these:

1. Vision
2. Discipline
3. Fear of God
4. Focus
5. Wisdom, and they resound now even more than ever.

And so in his steps, I leave you with those also. That for me is a legacy worth holding on to.

Rest in peace Dad.

Aremu Folakunmi

Empty we came into this world And empty we will all return. The day a man is born And his last day are The same . For Man Has no say on both days . The Lord gives And takes as he wishes . Glory be to His name alone. The news of death Of my late brother John AkinTunde The son of AREMU, Their son In Ogbomoso Who has just changed address Was difficult to break. Silence pervaded the church as the darkness of the sixth to ninth hours of the historic good Friday. Brethren (Believers) Suddenly become Unbelievers About his death . It is the utmost truth Of the year AD 2021 That Ifako Brethren Disbelieved. What a fear! what a loss!! Oh great people of Ifako FOURSQUARE, Arise, Believe, And Sorrow Not For his demise. For your actions Will be seen as a second wave of unbelieve like the Biblical Thessalonians. Whereas, We are Resurrection morning Hopeful.

May the Lord Grant the immediate family, The CFM Body And the Church of God The Fortitude To bear The irreparable loss .

Goodnight My brother, the bible Scholarly, a "truth advocate" And an "apostle of righteousness"

Steve Akinyele

What shall I say when God has spoken? I have nothing to say but to comply with the Word of God in 1Thess. 5:18 " In everything give thanks, for this is the will of God in Christ Jesus concerning you". When the Psalmist declared in Psalm 116:15, "Precious in the sight of the LORD is the death of His saints ", I have no option than to obey His injunctions. I thank God for calling him (Tunde Aremu) to Himself. This is the place every Christian is aspiring to get into. God, who knows tomorrow decided to take him away before the evil days. So, there should be no complaints. God is always right in His decisions.

Bro Tunde Aremu was one of the closest, reliable and trusted spiritual sons I have in Ifako. His departure to the great beyond was a great blow, more so when three dearest others passed away in January. The good thing was that all of them knew the Lord and served Him to the end. Brother Tunde Aremu finished well. May we all finish well.

To his dear wife and companion, Sister Iyabo Aremu, and the children, Semire, Folakunmi and Folabomi, the Lord will stand by you. He will never forsake you. He will keep and guide you all the days of your life. He will be your husband and father and no evil shall befall you.

Brother Tunde, Adieu! Adieu! Adieu

We will meet you in Heaven.

Rev Akindele J.I.(Rtd.)

His disciplinarian character ensured that his children are well behaved and of good report. He showered love and care on his immediate family, as well as to the extended family. He was known for his readiness to be of help and assistance in any way possible. He was a mentor, adviser, counsellor and role model to many.

Brother Akintunde Aremu accepted Jesus Christ as his Lord and Saviour during his secondary school days through the witnessing of Dr Gabriel Akilo, then a medical officer at the Baptist Hospital, Ogbomosho, and since then, he has been a committed Christian. The friendship has continued ever since and Dr Akilo has been one of his mentors and benefactors over the years. After his conversion, he also witnessed Christ to his family members and was concerned that all would experience the salvation of Christ. He was an active member of the Lagos Varsity Christian Union (LVCU) during his undergraduate years in the University of Lagos. Moreover, he was a member of the Foursquare Gospel Church, Nigeria when he was a student at UNILAG and worshipped at the Foursquare Gospel Church, Yaba. After marriage and moving to Agege, he joined Foursquare Gospel Church, Ifako where he was an active member and held various posts until the time of his passing on to glory. Brother John Aremu is survived by wife, children, brothers and sisters and will be greatly missed. We take solace and comfort in the scriptures which says in 1 Thessalonians 4:13 (KJV) "But I would not have you to be ignorant, brethren, concerning them which are asleep, ye sorrow not, as others which have no hope", and in Revelation 14:13 (KJV) "And I heard a voice from heaven saying unto me, Write, Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord from henceforth: Yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labours; and their works do follow them".

Adieu, Daddy Akintunde John Ishola Aremu. We miss and love you. Rest in the Lord's bosom until we meet to part no more.
